

New York University
A private university in the public service

School of Law
Center for Human Rights and Global Justice
245 Sullivan Street
New York, New York 10012
Telephone: (1-212) 998-6657
Fax: (1-212) 995-4031
Email: law.chrgj@nyu.edu

Professor Philip Alston
Faculty Director & Chair

Smita Narula
Faculty Director

Margaret Satterthwaite
Faculty Director

Jayne Huckerby
Research Director

CHRGJ Working Paper Series Submissions Guidelines

The Center for Human Rights and Global Justice welcomes unsolicited submissions for its working paper series. The Center does not take on editorial tasks, so all manuscripts must be ready for web publication at the time of submission. Please ensure the paper has been carefully proof read and cite-checked, and verify that footnotes are properly numbered and that cross-references are correct and updated.

Please follow these specifications when preparing your manuscript:

- Submit manuscripts as electronic files, in Microsoft Word format.
- Include a short (single paragraph) abstract.
- Use Times New Roman 12-point font, and submit your paper in a single-spaced format.
- Select one inch margins (top/bottom, and left/right), and specify that the paper size is 8 1/2 x 11" (US paper size).
- Page numbers must be centered at the bottom of the page.
- Prepare a cover page and include your affiliation and email address on that page.

Publication as a CHRGJ working paper does not preclude or prejudice subsequent publication in a book or journal.

Address submissions to Jayne Huckerby, Research Director, CHRGJ, at huckerby@juris.law.nyu.edu.

May 2006
